- Continue to Syntagma Square—home to the neoclassical Greek Parliament building—and admire the plaza's imposing marble steps, fountain, and lush shade trees.
- Admire the Arch of Hadrian—built to honor the Roman emperor—and imagine how its Pentelic marble stones were carted more than 11 miles from Mount Pentelikon in 131 A.D.
- View the remains of the sixth-century Temple of Zeus and gaze up at its 16 ornate Corinthian columns.

- Set off on a walking tour around the ancient Acropolis—site of the Parthenon, Temple of Athena Nike, and Erechtheion. You may have seen these enduring icons of antiquity in books and films; now, you're stepping through the work of craftsmen who quarried and honed these marble blocks thousands of years ago.

Enjoy a free evening or add an excursion to a local taverna where you'll enjoy dinner and a show of Greek folk dance and music.

- Delight in Little Venice—perched right alongside the Aegean and inspired by its Italian namesake—where colorful, sun-splashed residences seem to melt into the water, their balconies hanging over the sea.

- Stop in small, picturesque Pyrgos, where you'll weave through the steep streets of this off-the-beaten-path village.

Day 9: Ferry to Crete Wed 6/18/25

Included meals: breakfast, dinner

Take a ferry to Crete, the largest of the Greek islands, this afternoon. The birthplace of the ancient Minoan civilization, Crete served as the backdrop for the mythical tales of King Minos, the labyrinth, and the Minotaur. Remnants of Minoan civilization can be found across the island, punctuating a diverse landscape that ranges from lush valleys and dramatic gorges to looming mountains and serene beaches.

Expect to be embraced by the locals' friendliness—perhaps alongside a shot of raki, a strong digestif made of distilled grape skins that's offered as a sign of hospitality. Sit down for an included dinner this evening, served with beer or wine.

Day 10: Free day in Crete Thurs 6/19/25

Included meals: breakfast

Looking to uncover centuries of cultural diversity? Choose to join the excursion to Chania, a coastal city on Crete's northwestern shore that has passed between Greek, Venetian, and Ottoman hands through the years. Embark on a walking tour of Chania's Old Town, a historic quarter tinged by Venetian heritage that also happens to boast a thriving Jewish community.

You can also use your free day to enjoy Cretan cuisine—grilled seafood and local cheeses like mizithra—at one of the island's many seaside tavernas or stroll along the warm sands of a beach (or three).

serving Greek and international fare, but there's nothing like a home-cooked meal with friends and soon-to-be friends. Opt into the dinner excursion tonight and break bread with your local host.

You can also spend your first day in Athens scoping out the National Garden, a serene, green expanse in the heart of the city with ponds and shady paths that cross through ancient ruins. For a less crowded panorama of Athens, head to Mount Lycabettus, where you can hike or take the funicular railway to the top of the hill. Be sure to ask your Tour Director for their recommendations, too!

+ OPTIONAL Delphi

Day 13: Free day in Athens Sun 6/22/25

Included meals: breakfast

It's your last full day in Athens; let's make the most of it. Join the optional (but highly recommended) visit to the Corinth Canal. This narrow waterway connects the Gulf of Corinth to the Saronic Gulf and was an important navigational route upon its opening in 1893. While it's too narrow for modern vessels, its steep limestone walls provide a scenic contrast to the aquamarine waters below. You'll then continue to the archaeological sites at Epidauros and Mycenae to walk along some of the best- preserved ancient sites in Greece. If you choose to spend your free day venturing out on your own, why not take in some of the city's street art? Wander through neighborhoods like Exarchia or Psiri and check out their colorful graffiti up close. Looking for another vantage point to admire Athens? Head to the Pnyx, a hill where ancient Athenians gathered for assemblies. You'll get views and a tranquil atmosphere.

Tonight, gather with your fellow travelers to enjoy a farewell drink.

+ OPTIONAL Corinth Canal, Epidauros & Mycenae

Day 8: Greek Wine Tasting & Lunch

(4 hours, departs in the afternoon with lunch)

Extension excursion options

Day 12: Delphi

(11 hours, departs in the morning, lunch included)
Journey to the slopes of Mount Parnassus and the archeological site of Delphi, home of the mystical oracle. Embark on a guided tour featuring the Temple of Apollo, where, according to legend, the god Apollo once communicated with mortals. Greece's ancient military leaders customarily left gifts here in hopes of good fortune in battle. Then, take time to explore the ancient treasures, including a huge bronze charioteer, on display at the Delphi Museum. Continue on to the picturesque town of Arachova and enjoy a traditional Greek lunch at a local restaurant. Please note: This excursion involves some walking on uneven terrain and hills.

Day 13: Corinth Canal, Epidaurus & Mycenae

(8 hours, departs in the morning)
Begin the day with a visit to the Corinth Canal. Everyone from Julius Caesar to emperor Nero dreamed of building this canal to connect the Gulf of Corinth with the Saronic Gulf and cut down on the time it took to transport goods by boat. The present-day canal was completed in 1893 and separates the Peloponnese peninsula from mainland Greece. While it's too small for modern boats, the canal symbolizes the vision of these ancient rulers. After, head to the Ancient Theater of Epidaurus and learn about one of the world's best-preserved Greek amphitheaters. End the day with a tour of the UNESCO-listed Archaeological site of Mycenae, an important city in the Mycenaean civilization that's linked to Homer's famous Greek epics the Iliad and the Odyssey.
